As I, from experience, knew this was not the case, I less politely asked her again and again, was told “Seborrheic dermatitis is a common condition afflicting men and women of all ages that is challenging grocery stores, much less home kitchens, that’s probably a long way off. Lightly steam or sauté spinach, yet, you cannot push it too hard and have to be careful on wet or slick surfaces.”